Murch International Night is Coming - Get Ready!

What is it? An evening celebrating our international community at Murch when we share performances, culture and food.

Students will be given “passports” to be stamped as they travel around visiting displays and trying food from different countries and U.S. states. We brought this event back last year and it was a huge success featuring over 30 countries and hundreds of participants. Let’s make it happen again!

Food items should be cut into bite-sized portions, and must be accompanied by a list of ingredients (this event will be nut-free). We recommend serving food that can be kept at room temperature. If food must be kept hot or cold, you must provide a way to heat or cool it so that all food safety requirements are met.
